

My dear Miss Weston,

Excuse me for delaying so long to return your "Thin Call".

To tell you the truth, the idea of putting my name to a Document which is to appear in the public prints, the object of which is so much opposed by some of my friends, was, at first, rather an unpleasant one, but I have finally overcome all such foolish feelings & send you my signature, which, however unimportant in itself will at least show that I am in earnest, & am not afraid that my sentiments should be known.

I was very sorry to be out when you called. Do come again soon

I shall probably go down to Gloucester to spend the summer, the first week in July. I should not be surprised if we should see Mr. Honey tomorrow. With much love to yourself & sisters, I remain your affectionate friend.
Elizabeth.
